Dear Business Owner:

Businesses like yours are the backbone of California's economy. Each year they provide jobs for millions of Californians. At considerable expense, they also collect billions in tax revenue for the state with no compensation and little recognition for their efforts.

Business owners deserve appreciation and respect.

Unfortunately, doing business in California is difficult. To be successful, business owners must navigate complicated state tax laws. Even small mistakes can lead to significant penalties.

Tax help is available to you.

If you have a new business in California, staff is available to provide a consultation to help you avoid future tax problems.

To schedule your free business consultation, call 1-661-723-8469 or 1-916-445-2181.

For more information, visit www.boe.ca.gov/consultations.

Thank you for your contribution to California's economy.
